MyDancr

Changes required before publication

Complete review of the Dancer Agreement, Privacy Policy, California Privacy Addendum and DMCA Policy

Prepared September 17, 2026 | 27 must-fix items

Publication assessment: I would not publish these four documents as written. The review found material contradictions, outdated provisions and statements that do not match the current MyDancr application.

This report preserves the full review, including exact source-page references, proposed wording, operational publication gates and legal source links. The wording is a drafting starting point for counsel to finalize; it is not a legal opinion or a certification of compliance. A flagged correction may address a factual mismatch, contract risk or an applicable legal obligation. Conditional obligations still require an applicability determination.

How to use the page references: Every item below identifies pages in the original source files, before revisions. Those references are not the page numbers in this report. Word pagination can vary by device; the review used rendered Word copies. Use the section description as a second locator.

Application baseline: The review compared the documents with the available MyDancr application code at commit 8bca81bb. Production vendor contracts, feature configuration, retention periods, legal contact details and statutory applicability must still be confirmed. Code observations are not a complete audit of live production processing.

Dancer Agreement

September 17, 2026, version 4 | Items 1-8

1. Correct the service description and permitted use

ORIGINAL DOCUMENT PAGES: 1, 3, 8 and 9; title references also 7 and 12

Page 3 limits use to private, noncommercial use on one device; page 8 describes personal entertainment; page 9 restricts commercial use. Those restrictions conflict with dancers using MyDancr to promote their professional profiles and club appearances. Replace them with an accurate permission:

> MyDancr provides public promotional profiles, approved photos and videos, MyDancr TV, club affiliations, schedule and Working Now information, and related discovery features. Subject to this Agreement, you may access the Service on compatible devices you own or control and use its authorized features to promote your own lawful professional profile and club appearances.

Replace "Subscription Agreement" on pages 1, 7, 8 and 12 with "Dancer Agreement" unless an actual dancer subscription is being offered under that agreement.

On page 3, replace the reference to "semi-nude females" with content language that matches the application rules:

> The Service contains adult promotional content subject to MyDancr's content rules. Nudity, sexual activity, content involving minors, and unlawful solicitation are prohibited.

2. Remove the unsupported age-document requirement

ORIGINAL DOCUMENT PAGES: 7; reconcile with 1-2

The heading "AGE DOCUMENTS MUST BE SUBMITTED FOR ALL DANCERS" does not match the reviewed registration flow and conflicts with the earlier age language. Replace it unless document collection and verification are actually implemented:

> You must be at least 18 years old and satisfy any higher age, licensing, work-authorization, or other requirements applicable to your activities and the relevant club. You represent that all eligibility information you provide is accurate. Publication of a MyDancr profile or establishment of an NFC affiliation does not constitute independent verification of age, identity, employment, or licensing.

If age-document verification is intended, implement that process before representing that it occurs. This correction does not resolve whether additional age-assurance laws apply to the service.

Dancer Agreement | content and visibility

3. Make the content license and deletion effects consistent

ORIGINAL DOCUMENT PAGES: 6

The license combines perpetual and revocable rights, preserves irrevocable use of backup copies after deletion, and leaves continuing likeness rights without clear limits. Separate operating rights from restricted retention and any external advertising permission.

> You retain ownership of your content. You grant MyDancr a nonexclusive, worldwide, royalty-free license to host, reproduce, format, crop, transcode, watermark, display, and distribute that content as necessary to operate the Service and present your profile through its authorized features. Service providers may exercise these rights on our behalf for those purposes.

> When you remove content or close your account, we will stop its active public display through MyDancr, subject to reasonable technical processing and cache expiration. Restricted copies may remain where necessary for backups, security, disputes, or legal obligations under our retention policy. Retaining a copy does not authorize new public promotional use.

If MyDancr wants to use a dancer's content in external advertising, state that permission, its duration and how withdrawal works expressly. Do not derive new promotional rights from backup retention.

Replace the blanket privacy waiver with:

> Nothing in this Agreement waives privacy rights or other protections that applicable law does not permit you to waive.

4. Obtain clear authorization for public workplace and schedule information

ORIGINAL DOCUMENT PAGES: 2 and 6

Explain the practical visibility of club affiliations, shifts and Working Now status. Mirror this disclosure in the Privacy Policy and present it where dancers publish that information.

> When you publish your profile or schedule, you authorize public display of your stage name, city, approved media, public social links, club affiliations, posted shifts, and Working Now status, as applicable. This information can reveal where you work and when you expect to be there. Public information may be copied or indexed by others. Available profile and schedule controls let you change what MyDancr displays, but MyDancr cannot guarantee removal of copies independently retained by third parties.

Dancer Agreement | moderation and closure

5. Remove performance-management language and describe actual moderation

ORIGINAL DOCUMENT PAGES: 7-8

Page 8 permits termination based on a dancer's performance level. That conflicts with the independent platform relationship described on page 1. Replace it with platform-based enforcement:

> MyDancr may restrict or terminate access for violations of this Agreement, content requirements, account eligibility rules, or applicable law. MyDancr does not supervise or evaluate the Dancer's performance work at a club.

Remove the statement that inactive profiles become irreversibly archived "after a specific amount of time". Establish the actual period, notice and account behavior before making a definite promise.

On page 7, extend image approval to both photos and videos and reflect the current single-person rule:

> Dancer profile media must depict only the account holder and comply with MyDancr's content requirements. MyDancr may use automated tools and human review to approve, reject, or remove media. Approval does not verify age, identity, ownership, or continuing compliance.

6. Align deactivation and deletion instructions with Account Settings

ORIGINAL DOCUMENT PAGES: 5

The email-only process and ten-working-day description do not match self-service disabling and deletion requests. Explain the distinct effects of each action and match the operational process:

> You may disable or request deletion of your account through Account Settings, or contact support@mydancr.com for assistance. Disabling an account and deleting an account have different effects. Account deletion does not necessarily remove records we must retain for the limited purposes described in the Privacy Policy.

The Privacy Policy must explain those different effects. Do not promise immediate deletion of every record if security, legal, financial or restricted backup records remain.

Dancer Agreement | enforceability

7. Narrow releases, indemnity and liability exclusions

ORIGINAL DOCUMENT PAGES: 1 and 11-12

The releases and indemnity are too broad, and the liability-cap sentence is incomplete or malformed. Counsel should repair the cap and preserve nonwaivable rights:

> Nothing in this Agreement excludes or limits liability, remedies, or duties that applicable law does not permit the parties to exclude or limit. The releases, indemnities, and liability limitations do not apply to MyDancr's fraud, willful misconduct, or other conduct to the extent such protection is prohibited by law.

Limit indemnity to defined third-party claims arising from the dancer's breach, unlawful conduct or infringement. Define defense control and settlement approval. A broad disclaimer cannot substitute for these limits.

Source: California Civil Code section 1668.

8. Replace the arbitration provisions as one coordinated clause

ORIGINAL DOCUMENT PAGES: 12-14

This requires a coordinated counsel rewrite, not isolated word substitutions:

- Page 13: Replace the outdated reference to Commercial Rules plus Supplementary Procedures for Consumer-Related Disputes with the rules actually applicable to the relationship.
- Page 13: Correct the provision making the user solely responsible for filing fees; fee allocation must comply with applicable rules and law.
- Page 13: Supply the actual Legal Department notice address and usable delivery method.
- Page 13: Remove an unconditional promise that arbitration or related court records will remain permanently sealed.
- Pages 13-14: Remove overbroad prohibitions on injunctions and waivers of protections available in other jurisdictions.
- Page 14: Verify the California forum and highlighted template language. Do not automatically substitute Arizona without deciding the correct entity, governing law and forum.

> Applicable arbitration rules govern hearing procedures and fee allocation, including consumer protections where applicable. Nothing in this Agreement prevents either party from seeking remedies that cannot lawfully be waived, bringing an eligible small-claims action, or communicating with government authorities.

Privacy Policy

September 6, 2026 | Items 9-16

9. Correct payment providers and sensitive-data descriptions

ORIGINAL DOCUMENT PAGES: 3

The policy says all payment data is handled by Authorize.net. The reviewed code uses Stripe for billing and includes NATS sales-agent commission functionality; no Authorize.net integration was found. Confirm production providers and contracts before naming replacements.

- Separate information collected directly by a payment processor from billing status, transaction references and other information retained by MyDancr.
- Distinguish ordinary dancer-account data from club billing, sales-agent, support and media data. Do not imply every user supplies sensitive fields that only apply to particular roles or features.
- Remove obsolete dancer-commission representations if the current dancer finance feature remains retired. Do not confuse sales-agent commissions with dancer payouts.

10. Disclose the application data flows missing from the policy

ORIGINAL DOCUMENT PAGES: 3-7

Add disclosures covering actual profile, media, engagement, NFC, Club Deals, support, reporting, moderation and pickup-request processing. Identify recipients and retention for each relevant category.

We process profile information, approved photos and videos, social links, club affiliations, posted schedules, NFC events, engagement activity, saved or redeemed Club Deals, support communications, and safety or copyright reports to provide the relevant features.
We provide uploaded images and sampled video frames to automated moderation providers, including OpenAI, to assess content compliance. We retain review results and related records as described in our retention policy. These checks do not establish a person's identity or age.
When you submit a club pickup request, we send the selected club your submitted name, contact details, pickup location, party size, and request details so the club can respond. Submission does not confirm transportation.

Before publication, confirm the named moderation provider and each disclosed flow against the production configuration. The policy must describe actual processing, not every possible future use.

Privacy Policy | location and disclosure

11. Distinguish device location, NFC events and pickup locations

ORIGINAL DOCUMENT PAGES: 4

The application includes an optional browser location reading for venue-distance discovery. NFC club events and user-entered pickup locations are separate flows. Avoid a blanket statement that MyDancr never uses GPS or location data.

> If you choose the location feature and grant browser permission, the app obtains a location reading to calculate venue distances and assist discovery. Separately, an NFC event records the associated club and event time. NFC-based affiliation and Working Now functions do not use continuous or background location tracking. A pickup location you submit is shared with the selected club for that request.

Confirm whether coordinates remain on the device or are transmitted, and whether they are retained, before making a more specific storage or sharing claim.

12. Accurately describe public profiles and communication features

ORIGINAL DOCUMENT PAGES: 5 and 7

> Dancer and club promotional profiles and designated media and schedule information are public. Guest profiles, follow lists, and going lists are not public. MyDancr does not provide private messaging between guests and dancers. Information submitted through a specific club-contact feature is disclosed as explained for that feature.

Keep broader messaging or communication descriptions only if those features are actually enabled. The reviewed pickup-chat routes are retired; the club phone/contact handoff remains relevant.

13. Replace absolute promises about provider sharing

ORIGINAL DOCUMENT PAGES: 6

A promise that providers never share data can be inaccurate where authorized subprocessors operate or clubs receive information for their own services.

> Service providers process information on our behalf under applicable contractual restrictions and may use authorized subprocessors. Clubs and other third parties may independently control information they receive for their own services, as explained in the relevant feature disclosure and their privacy notices.

Include the necessary copyright-complaint disclosure:

> We may provide relevant complaint information to the affected uploader and forward a legally complete counter-notice, including required identifying and contact information, to the copyright claimant.

Privacy Policy | tracking and retention

14. Finish the cookie disclosures and distinguish DNT from GPC

ORIGINAL DOCUMENT PAGES: 6-7 and 9-10; related advertising claims on 5-6 and 10

- Page 7: Replace the "XXXXXXXXXX" entity placeholder. The cookie table is an embedded image, not an empty table. Convert it to accessible text, remove internal audit notes and verify every entry against production.
- Inventory local storage, session/authentication mechanisms, attribution and push-related storage as well as cookies. Do not limit the disclosure to the three entries in the current image if other mechanisms operate.
- Pages 5-6 and 10: Verify Google Analytics advertising features, ad networks, targeted advertising and marketing-cookie claims. Remove unsupported processing claims.
- Pages 9-10: Remove the blanket statement that the service disregards all automatic privacy mechanisms. Distinguish legacy Do Not Track signals from Global Privacy Control and other legally required opt-out signals.

Where MyDancr is covered and engages in regulated sale or sharing, honor applicable opt-out preference signals. If it does neither, say so accurately after auditing the actual disclosures and vendors.

Source: California Attorney General, CCPA guidance.

15. Resolve the account-lifetime retention contradiction

ORIGINAL DOCUMENT PAGES: 8-9

Page 8 suggests data is never retained beyond the account lifetime, while page 9 allows retention after closure. Replace the absolute promise:

> Some records may remain after account closure where necessary for security, fraud prevention, disputes, financial obligations, or legal compliance. Retention depends on the record category and purpose. Restricted retained records are not kept available as active public profile content.

Set and disclose category-specific periods or meaningful retention criteria for accounts, media, moderation results, NFC records, pickup requests, finance, support, DMCA files and backups. Do not invent fixed periods that operations cannot meet.

Source: California Privacy Protection Agency, CCPA statute effective January 1, 2026.

Privacy Policy | requests and completion

16. Complete the document and provide usable rights-request instructions

ORIGINAL DOCUMENT PAGES: 1, 13 and 17; state-law section on 10-16

- Page 1: Complete the "Sep __" effective date and repair the malformed entity identification.
- Page 13: Replace the California-addendum placeholder with the correct working link.
- Page 17: Supply the promised request form or remove that reference and provide a working request channel.

> To request access, correction, or deletion of your personal information, email support@mydancr.com and describe your request. You do not need to create an account. We may reasonably verify your identity where required for the type of request. Do not send passwords, authentication codes, or full payment-card details.

The five-state treatment on pages 10-16 is outdated for a 2026 publication. Assess the current state-law scope, actual operating footprint, thresholds and exemptions, then revise the rights section. Texas is one additional example to evaluate; do not imply every state law automatically applies.

Privacy publication checks

Before publishing the main policy and California addendum, reconcile the same facts across both documents:

- Which account roles and enabled features collect each category of information.
- Which information is public, sent to a selected club, supplied to a processor, or disclosed for legal and safety purposes.
- Which records remain after disabling, deleting media or closing an account, and the reason and retention criteria for each.
- Which privacy requests and opt-out signals the actual workflow can receive and fulfill.

These checks consolidate items 9-16; they are not a substitute for confirming the facts or implementing the promised controls.

California Privacy Addendum

September 6, 2026 | Items 17-20

First determine whether MyDancr is subject to the CCPA. Even if it is not, voluntary privacy statements must remain accurate. Do not publish a rights promise that the service will not honor.

17. Rebuild the category table from actual collection

Source row	Required correction
Page 1, D Commercial information	Reconcile "NO" with saved, selected or redeemed Club Deals and applicable billing activity. Describe actual collection for the relevant roles.
Page 2, H Sensory information	Change the inaccurate "NO" to reflect uploaded photos and videos, including accompanying audio where collected.
Page 1, A-C Identifiers and related categories	Separate statutory examples from the specific information MyDancr actually collects. A "YES" category must not imply collection of every listed medical, government-ID or protected-trait example.
Page 2, G Geolocation	Distinguish optional device location, user-submitted pickup location and club/time information from NFC events.
Pages 1-2, E Biometric information	Assess the actual processing. A photo, face crop or person count is not automatically biometric identification. Do not make that classification without examining purpose and use.
Page 2, K Inferences	Describe actual engagement inferences. Remove unsupported psychological or intelligence-profiling language.

Any statement about collection during the preceding period must describe what actually occurred in that period, not a roadmap of planned features.

California Privacy Addendum | rights and sharing

18. Update California rights and request procedures

ORIGINAL DOCUMENT PAGES: 3-5

Add correction rights, sale/sharing rights and limits on sensitive-information use where applicable. On page 4, remove the restriction that an authorized agent must be registered with the Secretary of State:

> You may authorize another person or qualifying entity to submit a request on your behalf. We may request proof of authorization and identity verification where permitted for that request.

On page 5, replace an open-ended promise to "endeavor" to respond with the applicable definite deadline and lawful extension procedure. On pages 3 and 5, remove the blanket twelve-month-only limitation:

> You may request information covering an earlier period where applicable law provides that right, subject to lawful limitations.

Source: California Privacy Protection Agency, regulations effective January 1, 2026.

19. Resolve the sale, sharing and data-aggregator statements

ORIGINAL DOCUMENT PAGES: 3 and 5

Audit recipients, contracts, SDKs and advertising uses before making a categorical statement. If confirmed by that audit, use:

> We do not sell personal information or share it for cross-context behavioral advertising, as those terms are defined by California law.

If the statement is not true, disclose the relevant categories, recipients and purposes and provide the required functioning opt-out mechanisms. Delete "Data Aggregators" unless that recipient category reflects actual processing.

20. Correct the notice-change and consent language

ORIGINAL DOCUMENT PAGES: 6; mirror in main Privacy Policy 16-17

Do not treat mere continued use as universal consent to every materially different data practice. Align the change notice with applicable law and the actual implementation:

> We will update this notice when our practices change. We will provide notice of material changes and obtain consent where required by applicable law before implementing the affected processing.

Use the same change-management rule in the main Privacy Policy. A notice update alone does not implement any consent that the affected processing legally requires.

The addendum and main policy must identify the same entity, request channels and actual processing. Complete the factual audit before choosing the no-sale/no-sharing statement or the disclosure-and-opt-out alternative. The old template does not establish that a sale or sharing actually occurs.

DMCA Policy

September 6, 2026 | Items 21-24; corresponding Dancer Agreement pages 10-11

21. Replace the search-engine template with a MyDancr notice process

ORIGINAL DOCUMENT PAGES: DMCA 1-3

- Page 1: Remove the mandatory search-query and search-results requirements. Identify the content on MyDancr instead:

> Identify the material on MyDancr that you want removed and provide its URL or other information sufficient for us to locate it.

- Pages 1-2: Replace fax/paper-only instructions with the supported online form or email and the actual agent mailing address. Preserve the ability to supply a physical or electronic signature.
- Page 2: Remove the Southern District of New York jurisdiction requirement for a claimant's takedown notice; that is not a standard notice element.
- Pages 2-3: Remove the alternative counter-notice statement that the material has already been removed and will not appear again. A counter-notice needs the required good-faith mistake-or-misidentification statement.
- Page 1: Replace blanket public or third-party distribution language with accurate disclosure to necessary parties, advisers, authorities or courts. Keep this consistent with the Privacy Policy.

Source: U.S. Copyright Office, section 512 guidance.

22. Use the statutory counter-notice jurisdiction structure

ORIGINAL DOCUMENT PAGES: DMCA 2; Dancer Agreement 11

> If my address is in the United States, I agree to the jurisdiction of the federal district court serving that address. If my address is outside the United States, I agree to jurisdiction in a U.S. federal district where MyDancr may be found. I will accept service from the original claimant or that claimant's agent.

Integrate this with the remaining statutory counter-notice elements, including identity and contact details, signature, identification of the removed material, and the required statement under penalty of perjury. This excerpt is not a complete counter-notice form.

Source: 17 U.S.C. section 512, Copyright Office publication.

DMCA Policy | restoration and enforcement

23. Correct the restoration period and synchronize both documents

ORIGINAL DOCUMENT PAGES: Dancer Agreement 11; add to DMCA 3

The Dancer Agreement's thirty-business-day restoration timing is wrong for the section 512 counter-notice process. Use the same accurate procedure in both documents:

> After receiving a legally complete counter-notice, we promptly forward it to the original claimant. We restore the affected material between 10 and 14 business days after receipt unless we first receive notice that the claimant has filed an action seeking a court order restraining the alleged infringement. Material may remain unavailable for a separate, independently applicable legal or policy reason.

The operational workflow must track receipt, forwarding, the restoration window and any qualifying litigation notice. A corrected policy alone does not correct case handling.

Source: U.S. Copyright Office, section 512 guidance.

24. Complete the designated-agent details and align repeat-infringer rules

ORIGINAL DOCUMENT PAGES: DMCA 2-3; Dancer Agreement 10-11

Provide the actual designated agent's name, mailing address, telephone number and email address, and confirm that the Copyright Office registration is current and matches the public information. A generic support email alone is insufficient.

Source: U.S. Copyright Office designated-agent directory.

The agreement describes termination after more than two notices, while the reviewed app suspends at three active strikes. Align the published policy, strike accounting and actual enforcement:

> MyDancr maintains and reasonably implements a repeat-infringer policy. Three active copyright strikes result in suspension under the current policy. Strikes that are rescinded are no longer counted. MyDancr may terminate repeat infringers in appropriate circumstances and may act sooner for serious or deliberate infringement.

Confirm that this wording accurately reflects the adopted policy and operational treatment of rescinded strikes, suspensions and termination. Receiving three notices is not necessarily the same event as having three active strikes.

Publication gates across the documents

Items 25-27 | Wording and operational controls must match

25. Add and operate a qualifying intimate-image removal process

ORIGINAL DOCUMENT PAGES: Dancer Agreement 7-10; new linked safety/removal notice

MyDancr's user-generated-content features appear likely to bring it within the relevant TAKE IT DOWN Act platform definition; counsel should confirm applicability. The covered-platform notice-and-removal requirement took effect May 19, 2026. A no-nudity rule does not substitute for a qualifying removal process.

> Nonconsensual intimate images, including qualifying digitally altered or generated images, are prohibited. A depicted individual or authorized representative may submit a removal request through our designated reporting channel. Upon receipt of a valid request, we remove the reported material within 48 hours and make reasonable efforts to identify and remove known identical copies within that period.

Provide a clear, accessible reporting channel usable by non-account holders, explain the information needed for a valid request, and operate a monitored process capable of meeting the applicable deadline.

Source: Federal Trade Commission, Complying with the TAKE IT DOWN Act.

26. Make acceptance and amendments match the signup flow

ORIGINAL DOCUMENT PAGES: Dancer Agreement 1, 3 and 14-15

Page 15 refers to clicking "JOIN", while the reviewed app uses "Create dancer account". The reviewed signup flow did not show a versioned acceptance record. Before publication:

- Place working links to the full documents next to the acceptance control.
- Capture affirmative agreement and the age representation; store the accepted version, account and timestamp.
- Reconcile page 3's immediate unilateral-change language with page 14's signed-amendment requirement.

> I confirm that I am at least 18 years old, agree to the Dancer Agreement and applicable Terms of Service, and acknowledge the Privacy Policy.

> We will provide notice of material changes and obtain renewed agreement where required. Changes will apply prospectively from the stated effective date.

27. Complete the publication cleanup and version alignment

ORIGINAL DOCUMENT PAGES: All four documents; Dancer Agreement typo on 12

Complete dates, legal entity and contact/address details; repair broken links, highlights, undefined or inconsistent terms and remaining template material. Correct "MYCANCR" on Dancer Agreement page 12.

The app's current short Terms and Privacy summaries must link to, or be replaced by, the finalized full documents. The acceptance record must identify the actual version presented to the user.
